DETAILED ACTION

Priority

Acknowledgment is made of applicant's claim for foreign priority under 35 U.S.C. 119(a)-(d). The certified copy has been filed in parent Application No. 10/136,313, filed on 02 May 2002.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

Claims 9-11 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the enablement requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to enable one skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and/or use the invention.

Claims 9-11 each recites or requires a hole portion that contacts the ring-shaped projecting portion on the stacking plane of a disc-shaped member.

The examiner has reviewed the disclosure and can only identify supply holes 51 and collection holes 52 in the detailed description of the invention section of the disclosure. However, such holes are not disclosed as, and cannot be construed to, contact the ring-shaped projection portion 71 on the stacking plane 11r of a disc-shaped member 11 as is claimed. Therefore it is unclear how one having ordinary skill in the art can make the holes 51, 52 contact the projection portion 71 on the stacking plane 11r of a disc-shaped member 11 without undue experimentation.

Upon reviewing the continuity of the instant case, the previous application 10/352,898 (U.S. Patent No. 6,746,204) claims were amended to change "hole" to "spot facing recess" to be consistent with the drawings and detailed description of the invention. The brief summary of the invention however, contains language similar to the pending claims (see page 9, lines 13-16, lines 23-27 and page 10, lines 3-5).

Double Patenting

The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

Claims 9-11, as far as they are enabled, are rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-3, respectfully of U.S. Patent No. 6,746,204 in view of United States Patent No. 6,224,327 (Aoki et al. hereinafter).

With respect to the lack of enablement rejection above, the examiner has assumed the hole portion recited in the pending claims to be consistent with the spot facing recess portion explained in the disclosure, thereby rendering the pending claims virtually identical to the patented claims, besides the recitation of stacking bolts which are used to couple the plurality of disc shaped members.

Aoki et al. show stacking bolts 25 in a turbine rotor for the purpose of assembling the plurality of rotor discs together.

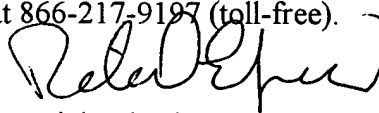

Since the Patent claims are directed to a plurality of disc-shaped members for a turbine rotor, and Aoki et al. teach to use stacking bolts in a turbine rotor for the purpose of assembling the plurality of rotor discs together, it would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to utilize stacking bolts to couple the plurality of disc-shaped members, as taught by Aoki et al., for the purpose of assembling the plurality of rotor discs together.
